Revised client-server baseline

This matrix links each requirement to its acceptance criterion, applicable Given–When–Then (BDD) scenario, and planned Jira ticket identifiers. Scenario references use the numbering and titles in Section 5 of `spec/srs.tex`. Architectural requirements cover the mobile client, REST API resources, and offline synchronization. Test, code, and documentation references remain blank until assigned.

Ticket responsibility and authority. The AI agent handles execution and generation for `WNT-05`, `WNT-06`–`WNT-12`, `WNT-15` (acceptance test execution with at least 85% coverage), and `WNT-16`. For `WNT-01`, `WNT-02`, and architectural details in `WNT-09`–`WNT-12`, work is collaborative: the agent proposes options and maps requirements; the human reviews and adjusts. Human-only authority applies to `WNT-03`, `WNT-04` (Gate 1), `WNT-13`, `WNT-14` (Gate 2), and `WNT-17` (Gate 3). Design validation, implementation verification, and all GO/NO-GO decisions remain exclusively with the human.
